ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Imposter.

Kathryn Gray, who claims to be a former Vassar girl, has been ordered from Pittsburg by the police department and threatened with imprisonment if she returns there.

Some weeks ago Miss Gray created a sensation by announcing that she was the only daughter of former United States Senator Ashbury Gray, of Virginia, and that she was just coming into his fortune of $300,000. She employed the best attorneys, and, it is said, secured considerable loans from several well-known business men. Soon after she wrs declevared to be an imposter, and one night she disappeared, after giving an alleged worthless check to her attorney. Since her disappearance from the house of E. H. Bausman, where she had worked as a kitchen girl, she has been flying high.

Laurence Faust caused the arrest of Miss Gray on a charge of false pretense. Faust was a coachman who posed as a millionaire and wrote letters to Miss Gray offering to marry her. The Vassar girl, it is alleged, quickly got all Faust had—$60—then told him to go.

Monday she was arrested and given a hearing before Alderman Negley. She was accompanied by an attorney, but made no defense until Faust, the coachman, was through; than she said:

"I gave you back $13, didn't I?"

"Yes," admitted the crestfallen coachman.

"And I gave you my note for thirty days for the balance, didn't I?" asked Miss Gray.

"Yes."

"Then, may it please your honor, I have discharged my obligation to this person and I demand to be discharged," said Miss Gray, rising like a queen.

"I guess that's right," said the alderman, looking foolish.

Then Inspector Bailey ordered her out of town within twelve hours, and she promised to go.

Mayor Charged With Contempt.

A warrant was sworn out in the Richmond Police Court yesterday morning against Mayor Carelton McCarthy, charging him with contempt of court. The mayor called J. D. Seckelman, a reporter for an afternoon paper, an "infamous and dirty liar." The latter reported the matter to the court, and the executive gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance this morning.

The trouble between the mayor and the reporter was the result of an article which appeared Wednesday afternoon, stating that the mayor had been reprimanded by the court in the trial of the vitascope case. Seckelman has engaged the services of counsel.

Upon entering the courtroom yesterday morning the mayor walked over to the reporter's table and asked Mr. Seckelman if he was the author of the article at which he had taken offense. Upon Seckelman answering in the affirmative, the mayor called him an infamous liar, saying there was not a word of truth in the whole report, and that it was libelous and scandalous. Walking over to the witness stand the mayor turned and said: "I called you an infamous liar before; now I say that you are a dirty liar."

Seckelman said that the courtroom was no place in which to settle such matters, whereupon, the mayor announced that he would settle it any time and in any way that the young man might choose.

Double Tragedy.

Word reached Wilmington, Del., last night of a double tragedy that was committed by highwaymen at Bernardtown, Chester county, Pa. Boyd Carpenter, a resident of that place, was shot and instantly killed and his wife was mortally wounded. The entire neighborhood is aroused, and the perpetrators will probably be lynched if captured by the posse which is searching for them.

When Mrs. Carpenter was on her way home alone from Coatesville, Pa., at 9 o'clock last night she was held up near her residence by the highwaymen, who are supposed to be foreigners, and attacked. She screamed loudly for help, and her cries were heard by her husband, who ran to her aid.

Carpenter, who was unarmed, grappled with the assailants, and was shot to death by the highwaymen before his wife's eyes. Mrs. Carpenter got between the murderers and the body of her spouse, and she, too, was shot several times and fatally wounded.

The tragedy occurred on a county road, but the reports of the shooting were heard by all of the residents near by and help soon reached the dying woman. In the road lay the body of her husband. The murderers made their escape, but it is believed that Mrs. Carpenter will be able to give a description of them should she regain consciousness.

Doctors Kill Patients.

The Chicago Chronicle of yesterday said:

"The action of the Ohio House of Representatives in declining to reject the measure introduced by Representative Hunt making the administration of a fatal anæsthetic in cases considered hopeless discretionary with the attending physician after consultation with three other physicians, has brought forth a storm of protests from Chicago scientists, philanthropists and professional men generally. One physician, however, asserted that for years doctors have used discretionary powers in cases of incurable disease. This is vigorously denied by other practitioners. The majority declare the effect of the law would lessen the sanctity of human life, already too lightly regarded, and open the way to errors of judgment, which might result in incalculable harm to society. Those, on the other hand, who favor the idea from an economic and humanitarian point of view insist that discretionary power should not be invested in any number of physicians, but should rest with a special board in each State, consisting of the acknowledged leaders of the medical profession, who should pass upon each case separately."

In office and factory, shop, store or kitchen girls are at work all over this land, and, alas! far beyond their strength. Young women who work are especially liable to female ills. Too often the girl is the bread winner of the family and she must toil unremittingly, no matter if her back does ache, her limbs and abdomen throb with dull pain and dragging sensations, and dizzy spells make her utterly unfit for work. These are the sure signs of female irregularities which kill beauty and youth.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

builds health and strength for all women who work and are weary. It creates the vitality that makes work easy. From the thousands of grateful letters written by working girls to Mrs. Pinkham we quote the following:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell you the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier have done for me. Before I took them I was very nervous, had dull headaches, pains in back, and was very irregular. I had been to several doctors and they did me no good.

Your medicine has made me well and strong, I can do most any kind of work without complaint, and my periods are all right.

I am in better health than I ever was, and I know it is all due to your remedies. I recommend your advice and medicine to all who suffer.

MISS ABBY F. BARROWS, Nelsonville, Athens Co., Ohio.

Oh, if American girls who work would only realize that they have but one life to live, and make the most of their precious health and strength!

Mrs. Pinkham extends to every working girl who is in ill health a cordial invitation to write her for advice. Such letters are always kept strictly confidential, and from her vast experience Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help you—and may save your life.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker, of Poterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken—dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING. JAN. 26, 1906.

ANOTHER gallant Confederate general has passed over the river and gone to his long rest and the roll is growing gradually but surely shorter. General Joseph Wheeler, of Alabama, after a short illness of pneumonia, died at the home of his sister in Brooklyn yesterday evening in the 70th year of his age. General Wheeler was one of the most picturesque characters produced by the civil war. He distinguished himself in many exploits in that great struggle and at its close, then but 29 years old, was commander of the entire Confederate cavalry. Thirty-three years later he was the leading American cavalry officer in the war with Spain, and probably saved the American forces from a disastrous retreat in the face of the enemy at Santiago. He served several terms in Congress and there represented his constituents faithfully and well. In civil life General Wheeler was as tireless as on the battlefield. After his retirement to private life he had many offers to head big corporations, railroads and others, at a high salary, but declined them all.

VERY rightly contending that there was danger of becoming involved unnecessarily in the affairs of other countries by participating in the Algeciras conference and that this country was not sufficiently concerned with affairs in San Domingo to justify its course in that island, Mr. Money attacked the foreign policy of the administration in the Senate yesterday and declared that the President had transcended his authority. Mr. Money's warning comes none too soon, but it will pass unheeded and many of the wisest heads in the country today fear that before the expiration of Mr. Roosevelt's term of office he will have involved the United States in severe troubles. Washington's warning against foreign entanglements seems to have been forgotten by the republican leaders of today.

A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE at Hellertown, Pa., last night caused a sensation at a prayer meeting when he shouted: "If women would stay at home and observe the duties of housekeeping instead of running off to revivals, they would make more happiness in this world and accomplish the will of the Lord." The congregation gasped. The men smiled, while the women looked horrified. The justice told the story of a woman whose husband had asked him to keep a traveling evangelist out of the house, as his wife, in a religious fervor, forgot to cook his meals and made him wear socks which were full of holes. Then many of the women in the congregation realized the truth of what the justice had said and left for their homes with sore consciences—for the time at least.

ANOTHER victim of the immoderate use of cigarettes has been brought to the front. Crazed by their habitual use, Charles Leopold, aged 22 years, of Pittsburg, Pa., has been removed from the Allegheny General Hospital and taken to the insane department of the Allegheny City Home at Claremont. This makes the fourth time that young Leopold has been so confined. Several days ago he attempted suicide by slashing himself with a razor. He is not addicted to the liquor or drug habit, but consumed on an average a dozen packs of cigarettes each day. Physicians say this is responsible for his condition.

NEW ENGLAND manufacturers have agreed to raise the price of shoes. They state, however, that this raise would not be necessary if the duty were taken off raw hides and the other raw materials that enter into the manufacture of shoes. As all voters wear shoes they should see that these duties are removed.

THE superintendent of the Naval Academy says he now has the situation well in hand at Annapolis and that he believes he will be able to suppress hazing and eliminate the reported "code of honor" But we have all heard this before, many a time, many a time.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Jan. 26.

With the adoption of the statehood bill yesterday by the House, the "Insurrection of 1905" passed into history. Of the 54 whom Chief Babcock claimed to have enrolled under his banner, only 43 could be found when the engagement began on Wednesday, and only 33 went to the firing line yesterday. There is some talk yet to be heard, but in the main the insurgents have promised to be good hereafter. The measure now goes over to the Senate in the shape desired by the President and the administration forces. It had pretty rough sledding in the House, but that wasn't a circumstance to what may be expected in the Senate. The opposition there is quite as formidable and the opportunities to make it tell are more numerous.

The Chinese Imperial Commission, in this country to study industrial conditions, visited the Bureau of Engraving and Printing today to see the printing of money. The members were also shown through the Treasury and at 1 o'clock took lunch at the Y. M. C. A. At 3 o'clock they went to the Corcoran Art Gallery and this evening will dine at the Chinese legation.

Statistics compiled by the Interstate commerce commission for the months of July, August and September, 1905, show that there were 1,053 killed and 16,38 injured among railroad passengers and employees. The total number of employees reported killed in coupling and uncoupling cars, is 74 and the number injured 819. The total number of collisions and derailments was 3,135, of which 240 collisions and 141 derailments affected passenger trains. The damage to cars, engines and roadway by these accidents amounted to $2,540,908.

Chairman Shonts of the Panama Canal Commission, Auditor Benson and Chief Purchasing Agent Ross were examined by the Senate committe on interoceanic canals this morning in secret session.

It was officially denied, this afternoon, that the United States has any intention of selling the Philippines to Japan. The denial was brought out by receipt of a cablegram from Gov. Gen. Ide, at Manilla stating that Ambassador Wright had been authorized to negotiate the sale of the Islands to Japan.

The Senate committee on territories this afternoon by a strict party vote, ordered a favorable report to the Senate on Monday, of the Hamilton joint statehood bill which passed the House yesterday. An effort wil be made to call the bill up for consideration in the Senete without delay.

The following statement was given out at the White House this morning:

"In view of Col. Mann's testimony yesterday the following letter, which explains itself, is hereby made public:

"'White House, Washington, Nov. 1, 1905.

"'Sir: The President directs me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter running as follows: "Col. Mann's compliments to the President and requests the honor of acceptance of the work Fades and Fancies for representation in which the President was pleased to give a photograph of Mrs. Hampton some three year's ago, and which is but just completed. The volume is sent today by Adams express, October 13, 1905."—And to say that as Mrs. Hampton has already publicly stated, the President did not give any photograph to her for publication in the work in question and that he knew nothing of the book or of the fact that Mrs Hampton wished the photograph for use therein. Under the circumstances the President cannot accept the book, and it is accordingly returned to you herewith. Yours truly,

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 26.

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session today having adjourned yesterday till Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. Dalzell offered a rule providing that the urgent deficiency bill may be amended so as to except aliens from the eight hour work day established in the Panama canal zone, thus making the eight hour day apply only to American laborers. Mr. Dalzell immediately asked the previous question. On a rising vote the motion was carried, but Mr. Williams demanded a yea and nay vote, which was ordered.

The House, by a vote of 146 to 102, adopted a rule accompanying the urgent deficiency bill, providing that it shall be permissible to amend the bill so as to except alien labor from the operation of the eight hour law on the Isthmus of Panama. The democrats attempted to make a party question of it, declaring that the amendment was aimed indirectly at American labor. Twelve republicans voted with the democrats against the rule.

The House went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the urgent deficiency bill, which was taken off the boards by the statehood bill on Wednesday.

COURT OF APPEALS.

The following is a summary of the opinions handed down yesterday by the Court of Appeals:

Woods, administratrix, vs. Southern Railway Company, Circuit Court of Amherst county; upon petition to rehear refused.

"I would suggest" his letter read, "that my legs be sawed in two below the knee to see if there is any marrow in my bones. For seven years I have suffered terrible pain, and I am desirous that my wish be carried out so as to ascertain if there is a cure for this awful disease." Baroness Burdette-Coutts.

Baroness Burdette-Coutts, one of the best known of English women, is seriously ill, and on account of her advanced age—92 years—there is but little chance of her recovery. The Baroness is very rich, being the principal partner in the banking house of Coutts & Co., which acts as private banker for most of the royal families of Europe. It was this bank that kept for many years the papers of Mrs. Fitzherbert, the famous English beauty. When the papers were opened last fall it was proved that Mrs. Fitzherbert had been the wife of George IV. Baroness Burdette-Coutts was one of the most intimate friends of Queen Victoria. Twenty-five years ago she created a sensation by becoming the wife of a young diplomat named Bartlett. He was quite poor, and when he was married took the name of Burdette-Coutts. The marriage proved a very happy one. The husband is living yet, still a comparatively young man. The Baroness had her title in her own right. She is known as one of the most charitable women in London. She is especially beloved among the costermongers of Whitechapel.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The two houses of the General Assembly at 12:30 o'clock yesterday proceeded with the execution of the joint order—the election of circuit judges for 7 of the 24 circuits of the State.

The election was sought to be postponed in the Senate until today in order to allow the introduction of a bill increasing the salaries of the judges. Senator Taverner and ot Senator Fulton undertook to stay the execution for the joint order so that the bill might be reconsidered, but the House would not agree to retrocession.

The following judges were elected without a dissenting voice, the republicans making no nominations in opposition to the nominees of the democrats, and in several instances voting with the democrats:

Thirteenth Circuit—Judge Clagget B. Jones.

DEATH OF GEN. WHEELER.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler died at 5:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sterling Smith, in Brooklyn. He was 69 years old.

It has not yet been decided where the body will be interred, but proably it will be in Arlington National Cemetery.

General Wheeler was taken ill six days ago at his sister's home, where he had been living recently. He contracted a severe cold, which developed into pleurisy and pneumonia. From the first his age told against him, but the family did not give up hope until Wednesday night, when the disease was found to have affected both lungs. General Wheeler's immediate relatives were all with him.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler ranked high among the brilliant cavalry leaders developed by the civil war. When he surrendered as a lieutenant general in the service of the Confederacy he was only 29 years old, yet he was senior cavalry officer in the Confederate army. Thirty-three years later, as a major general of volunteers, U. S. A., he was leading American cavalry against the Spaniards in Cuba In his last service he showed the same dash, the same capacity for sudden, brilliant movements that worried federal generals in the cival war.

General Wheeler was born in Augusta, Ga., on September 10, 1836. His ancestors were English, his parents one of the first families of Georgia, In 1854 he sought and secured the appointment as cadet to the Military Academy at West Point. He received the rank of lieutenant of cavalry, and soon thereafter was ordered to New Mexico, and then to Kansas. In both places he did much hard work and saw blood spilled in various Indian scouting engagements. Then came the civil war in which his military genius and dash were displayed on many occasions. He had a number of narrow escapes, on one occasion a horse upon which he was riding having been blown to pieces. He was generally regarded as having a charmed life. In October, 1862, he was made brigadier general, and in January, 1863, he was promoted to major general. Besides being in many skirmishes, General Wheeler commanded in a large number of battles, many of which, considering the numbers engaged, were among the most severe and successful recorded in the history of cavalry. On the death of Stuart he became senior cavalry general of the Confederate army. At the conclusion of the war General Wheeler settled in Wheeler, Lawrence county, Ala., where he became a lawyer and cotton planter. He was elected to Congress in 1881 from the Eighth district of Alabama, and served continuously until 1899. He was re-elected to the Fifty-sixth Congress, but resigned. From 1886 to 1900 he was regent of the Smithsonian Institution and was a member of the board of visitors to the Military Academy from 1887 to 1893, again in 1895, vice president of the board in 1887 and president in 1895. On May 4, 1898, President McKinley appointed General Wheeler major general of volunteers, U. S. A. He was assigned to the command of the cavalry division of the army at Santiago. At the battle of Las Guasimas, June 24, 1898, General Wheeler was in command, and was senior officer in the field at the battle of San Juan Hill. From August, 1899, to January, 1900, he commanded a brigade in the Philippine Islands. On June 6, 1900, he was commissioned brigadier general, U. S. A., and assigned to command the Department of the Lakes. He remained in the army until September 10, 1900, when he resigned. General Wheeler was a member of the Society of Colonial Wars, Sons of the Revolution, Society of the War of 1812, Society of Santiago and the Naval and Military Order of the Spanish-American War. He was the author of "Account of the Kentucky Campaign," 1862; "Cavalry Tactics," 1863; "Military History of Alabama," "History of the Santiago Campaign," 1898; "History of Cuba, 1496 to 1899;" "History of the Effect Upon Civilization of the Wars of the Nineteenth Century," and also eight volumes of congressional speeches, 1883 to 1898. He wrote also monographs upon the lives of Admiral Dewey, William McKinley, Stonewall Jackson and Theodore Roosevelt. He was a frequent contributor to magazines.

Japanese Garden in a Hotel.

Mrs. William G. Roelker, of whom little has been seen or heard since the close of her brilliant season at Newport, has issued invitations for an entertainment of a somewhat unusual order on February 1. It is to take the form of a Japanese luncheon at the St. Regis, Hotel, New York; that is to say, Japanese in so far that the entire big table at which her 60 guests—all of them women—are seated will be laid out in the form of a Japanese garden, with hills and streams, bridges, temples, sampans and the inevitable fuslyama. The decorations of the room will be in keeping with those of the table, and afterward there is to be a Japanese vaudeville in which acrobatic feats and native dances will constitute the principal feature. The women present will likewise have an opportunity of witnessing some of the cleverest feats of jiu jitsu.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 26.—The stock market during the first hour showed decided improvement over the unsettled condition that prevailed from the beginning of the week until this morning. There was good buying of all standard stocks, speculative interest being diverted from the closely held pool specialties to leading railway and low-priced shares The buying of Southern Railway, Ches peake and Ohio and Erie was significantly strong, coming from the most important banking interests concerned in the stock market and railroad affairs.

The Legislature.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

A bill abolishing school inspectors and examiners was favorably reported in the House.

Dr. Powell tried to get up his anti-football bill, but the House refused to discharge the committee. The House adjourned in honor of the memory of General Wheeler and a message of sympathy was sent to the family.

Dismissed from Academy.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 26.—Stephen Decatur, jr., of Portsmouth, N. H., was dismissed from the Naval Academy today, having been convicted of the charge of hazing by the general court martial in session here. The order of dismissal in his case, which has been pending for several days, was received here this morning from Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte and was promulgated at dinner formation today of the full brigade of midshipmen, with Decatur in the ranks. Young Decatur was twice tried by the court martial, but was not convicted of the charges in the first offense.

When the court martial resumed its sessions this morning the record of proceedings in the cases of Richard Ray Mann, of Washington, and Ned Leroy Chapin, of Pasadena, Cala., both first class men, was reviewed, and approved by the court. The case of hazing against George H. Melvin, of Geneseo, Ills., third class, was then taken up by the court. Melvin, when arraigned, announced that he desired a naval officer for counsel, suggesting that the court name Lieutenant Graham. Lieutenant Graham accepted, but in view of the fact that he desired time to consult with his client, and to consider the case, he asked that the court adjourn until 2 30 tomorrow. The court granted the request.

Conditions in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 26.—The revolutionists in Penza have made a statement in which they say that General Lisovsky, who was killed recently, was murdered by mistake for M. Posorovsky, the chief of the gendarmerie. The latter has received a notice from the revolutionists in which they say that "the error will be rectified as soon as a favorable opportunity arises."

The government is becoming more reactionary all the time and is reversing the reforms which were promised by the imperial manifesto October 30. The position of the government is becoming harder, as the country is threatened with national bankruptcy. Revolutions have been started on all the State pawnshops and their capital is rapidly being exhausted. The banks have already suffered heavily, on account of the withdrawals of money.

General Linevitch who has arrived here has reported to the government that during his trip from Manchuria to St. Petersburg, he was obliged to pass through eight different revolutionary governments.

France and Venezuela.

Berlin, Jan. 26.—In well informed circles here it is not anticipated that France will take energetic action against Venezuela, to force President Castro to make amends for the wrongs France claims until the Moroccan question is settled, so that the world will not be troubled with two crises at the same time.

Paris, Jan. 26.—The Venezuelan matter was again discussed at a meeting of the Council of Ministers today. No official information was given out in regard to the deliberations, but it was learned that the government has already decided upon the course of action for France to pursue and has informed the United States as to its intentions. The American government is said to have given its consent to France's plans, but absolute secrecy is maintained here as to what these plans are.

General Wheeler's Funeral.

New York, Jan. 26.—Partial arrangements were made today for the funeral of General Joseph Wheeler, who died last evening, by the members of the family. The body will be taken to St. Thomas Episcopal Church, on Sunday, where services will be conducted by the Rev. E. M Stires, the rector. The services will be held Sunday afternoon, and in the evening the body will be sent to Washington for burial at the Arlington National Cemetery. The burial will be attended with military honors, and it is probable that a military escort will accompany the body from St. Thomas Church to the station. Many telegrams of sympathy and condolence have been received by the members of he family at the home of General Wheeler's sister, Mrs. Sterling Smith.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammed portion of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or feet hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Other Prosecutions to Follow.

New York, Jan. 26.—Norman Hapgood, editor of Collier's Weekly, was today found not guilty of criminally libelling Justice Joseph M. Deuel, of the Court of Special Sessions. The verdict justified all that was said about Justice Deuel regarding his connection with Town Topics while at the same time holding a judicial position, which, under the statute, is against the law. Justice Duel's removal from the bench within the near future is forecasted by the verdict as well as criminal prosecutions that will probably be brought against certain persons in connection with Town Topics for alleged blackmail and extortion.

New York, Jan. 26.—If Norman Hapgood, editor of Collier's Weekly, is found not guilty today by the jury which is trying him on a charge of criminal libel, brought by Justice Deuel, criminal prosecution of certain people connected with Town Topics will follow by District Attorney Jerome.

Lavish Entertainment.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—One of those lavish "dinner dances" which make one think a feast and entertainment which is estimated to have cost, for perhaps six hours' amusement, not less than $25,000, and probably much more than that, was given in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford last night for Miss Clara Waterman Knight. The providers of this sumptuous feast—or feasts, for a supper followed the dance—were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Collings Knight, parents of the popular debutante, who has been called "the most-feted debutante in Philadelphia."

Will See Her Later.

Washington, Pa., Jan. 26.—"Goodbye, Lizzie," said H. G. Gibson, a prominent business man of Monongahela, yesterday evening, to his daughter as they were crossing a bridge over the Monongahela river. Gibson then leaped over the bridge rail into the river and drowned. Domestic difficulties prompted the deed. On the mantel in his dining room was found this letter, addressed to his wife. "Good-bye, Nell. You have ruined your family, and sent me to hell. I will see you later."

Everbody's Magazine for February, which has been received from the Ridgway-Thayer Co., New York, shows an unusually attractive table of contents. "His Majesty, the King of Spain," is the leading article. In the instalment of "Soldiers of the Common Good" is described the work of the German Government in acquiring and managing its railroads. The final chapter of "Frenzied Finance" reviews the long story and indicates something of the author's future intentions. "Reporters of Today" and "The Players" are of interest and well illustrated. Rex. E. Beach's serial, "The Spoilers," grows more thrilling with each installment and the other fiction is of high order.

THE CURTIN MURDER CASE.

Another large crowd gathered in the Police Court this morning to witness the examination of the case of Harry Meeks and Herbert Foster, arrested in connection with the mysterious murder of George R. Curtin last December. Mr. S. G. Brent appeared for the Commonwealth and Mr. J. M. Johnson for the prisoners. Mr. S. P. Fisher, Corporation Attorney, and Mayor Paff were also present.

Twenty witnesses, male and female, who had been summoned by the Commonwealth, were sworn.

Samuel Mills, colored, was the first to take the stand. He saw Curtin at 6 p. m. on December 23 on the corner of Patrick and Queen streets with two men, one of whom he recognized as Foster. The other man he did not know, but said it was not Meeks.

Dr. W. M. Smith was called and he testified concerning the result of the autopsy of Curtin's remains, which showed that the man was dead when placed in the water.

George R. Patterson, proprietor of the Tontine Hotel, followed. Saw Meeks, Curtin and a man named McCaffray, on the night of December 23. It was then about midnight. The men left his saloon together. Upon being cross-examined witness said Curtin, Meeks and McCaffray came in with the crowd. He did not recognize the others.

James Fegan was the next witness. The witness denied that he had met Curtin in a resort in the northeastern section of the city and had requested him to leave a room in which it was alleged witness found him. He admitted he visited a certain house. There had been a row in one of the houses, police whistles had been sounded and he recognized the voice of Leroy Beach, jr.; did not know the others. Beach wanted to fight some one in the crowd. Witness gave the names of the parties who accompanied him to the resort. He also said there were about a dozen men wrangling at Queen and Lee streets about 2 o'clock that morning, but he did not recognize the voices of either.

Howard Hardy was the next witness called. He did not recollect having seen Curtin on the night of December 23, although witness was in a house on north Lee street on that night. Witness told of a row which took place in one of the houses, and recognized Beach's voice. The latter had said he could whip any man who came on the street. Did not recognize either of the prisoners.

Theo. Gensmer testified to seeing Curtin in Mamie Wood's house, on Princess street, on the night of December 23. He was with two men, one of whom he recognized as Meeks. Witness had some words with Curtin, the latter having trodden on witnesses' foot, and one of the women of the house led Curtin away. Left Curtin, Meeks and another in the house.

Mamie Wood subsequently took the stand. Witness saw Curtin with three men—two of whom were Meeks and Foster—in her house on the night of December 23. Others were in the back room. Witness gave another reason for the trouble between Curtin and Gensmer; she also said that Fegan had told Curtin not to come into the room where he (Fegan) was seated. Witness said Curtin and his companions left her house about half-past 2 o'clock in the morning. Meeks had left first, saying he wanted to get rid of Curtin, as he did not desire to get into trouble.

Annie Lee was called. She is an inmate of Mamie Wood's house. Saw Curtin, Meeks and Foster and another man in the house on the night of December 23. Did not know the fourth man. Was shown a picture by Mr. Brent which she recognized, as a man who has been going by the name of Luckett and McCaffray.

The picture was also identified by Meeks. Witness said Fagan had told Curtin not to enter a back room.

Wm. Maupin saw Curtin on north Lee street on Saturday night, December 23, but his evidence threw no light upon the murder.

Carroll Hanzmon saw Curtin with two strange men on north Lee street on the night of his disappearance. Did not recognize the prisoners as being Curtin's companions. The preceding witness was with Maupin in Eva Baker's house on the night in question. Mankin in his evidence had testified that he was denied admittance to the Baker woman's house. Witness seen Curtin sitting on Fannie Kimball's door step, and when some one slapped him on the back he said he was sick.

Raymond Henderson also saw Curtin sitting on Fannie Kimball's doorstep on the night of his disappearance. Saw but one man with Curtin; did not think it was Meeks.

Ernest Recker said he came down from Washington on the night of December 23 with Maupin and others, arriving here at 1 o'clock or shortly after. They went to the Tontine and took a drink and then went to Lee street. He said he saw Mankin slap a man on the shoulder, but didn't know the man. Meeks and Foster, he said, were standing nearby. He didn't see the man in the light overcoat. To nearly all of the questions put to him by Mr. Johnson Recker replied, "couldn't say."

After one or two witnesses, whose testimony was unimportant, were put on the stand, LeRoy Beach, jr., was called. He proved a most difficult witness to examine, becoming so insolent while Mr. Johnson was questioning him that Justice Caton had to warn him several times to be more civil and one time had to threaten to lock him up. Beach claimed that he went to Washington between 7 and 8 o'clock on the Saturday night in question, returned early in the evening, went to the Tontine and from there to Lee street, where he visited several houses; while in one house he heard a police whistle and when he went out in the street saw several men engaged in an altercation. He thought Meeks was about to fight with one of his friends and offered to whip Meeks or any one of the crowd with him. Beach said that he went home shortly after that, arriving there at one o'clock. He stated that he could prove this by members of his family. Beach was put through a severe cross-examination by Mr. Johnson to show that men congregate on the witness's ark on the river front and that liquor is kept aboard the ark.

At 1 o'clock court took a recess until 2 o'clock, when the investigation was resumed.

James Wood was the next witness. He left Washington at 12:30 with Maupin and party and went to Lee street with them. He did not see Curtin that night but saw Ed. Padgett in Eva Bakers. Did not see either Meeks or Foster, but recognized LeRoy Beach's voice on the street when the row took place. He said one of his companions remarked that there was going to be trouble and they left the neighborhood.

James Gorman was then called. He said he was not on Lee street Saturday night, December 23, and did not know George Curtin.

Pauline Miller then took the stand. She denied that the police whistle was blown at her house, as had been testified, but said that she was sick in bed at the time. She also said that if a disturbance took place outside of her house she did not hear it.

A youth named Gordon Boothe who boards on north Lee street, said he saw Curtin, Meeks and Foster in Mamie Wood's house. There was another man with them but he did not notice him. About 1:20 a. m. he saw Foster trying to get Curtin to go home from the corner of Union and Queen streets. He said a heavy set man came along and advised Foster to let Curtin alone, as he could do nothing with him. Boothe then testified that he saw Gorman that night on Lee street and that just before he entered the court room Gorman had asked him to testify that he "thought" he saw him.

Gorman was recalled and confronted by Boothe. Each stuck to his story, Boothe claiming that Gorman said "If they ask you if you saw me tell them you think so." Gorman denied having told Boothe to do so.

Eva Baker said Curtin was in her house the night of December 23 with Meeks, but she could not identify Foster. This, she said, was about 2 o'clock. She closed her house then. About half an hour before that Curtin had told her that he had plenty of money. James Gorman was not in her house that night but she saw him on the street in front. LeRoy Beach had come to her house, she said, about midnight, and asked for Joe Mills, but did not come in.

May Havenner was an inmate of Eva Baker's house at the time Curtin disappeared. She saw Curtin in the house the night of December 23, but did not see the men with him. Curtin had asked her to play the piano between 1:30 and 2 o'clock, but Eva Baker would not allow her to do so. Curtin's friends were then outside the house.

Harry Beach, a brother to LeRoy Beach, said he did not know Curtin. He was with Gorman the night of December 23 but left him at King and Royal streets at 9:30. He denied being with Gorman on Lee street at 12:30 that night.

Mr. Brent asked him if his brother had had any conversation with him in reference to what he should say on the stand. He admitted talking to his brother about 10 minutes before but declared that he had forgotten what his brother had told him.

Mary Belmont, of 300 north Lee street, heard the police whistle and let LeRoy Beach out of the house at his request. The hour was late but she couldn't fix it exactly. She could not remember seeing Meeks or Foster that night and had not seen Curtin since a week or ten days before Christmas.

Sallie Porter was then called. She said she lived in Pauline Miller's house but did not hear the police whistle the night of December 23, nor could she remember the names of any of the men who were in the house that night.

Kingston Ratcliffe knew Curtin by sight, but did not see him the night in question. He said he was drinking and may have had a disturbance, but could not recollect it. Le Roy Beach, he said, had since told him that Meeks was going to beat him and that he, Beach, had taken his part.

Policeman Lyles testified that he and Jones saw Gorman and Harry Beach going to Lee street shortly before a raid on an alleged poker room.

William Ketlin, jr., denied that he had ever said that he had seen certain people washing blood from an ark. He said he had been on the ark since last summer.

Paul Schlichting said that Ketlin had told him that he had "heard" that people were seen washing blood from the ark. Ketlin was recalled and said that he didn't remember having made such a remark to Schlichting.

Wash Jackson, colored, the proprietor of the Old Virginia House, testified that Meeks looked like a man who was in his house between 2 and 4 o'clock Sunday morning with a young man named Elmer Nigtingill and a youth named Hicks and Marks. They took lodging and stayed until 5 o'clock or a little latter.

Policeman Jones testified that as he was coming up the steps at the police station during today's hearing he heard LeRoy Beach tell Harry Beach to say that he did not see James Gorman on Lee street December 23.

Harry Beach was then recalled, but he denied the charge made by the officer.

At 4 o'clock the Gazette's report closed.

The New Highway Bridge.

In a short time, when the cars of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company begin to use the new highway bridge across the Potomac, a tax of half a cent will be imposed by the government of the District of Columbia on every passenger carried over the bridge by the company. The average daily traffic over the electric railway is between 1,600 and 1,800 passengers. In a year this means that there are in the neighborhood of 600,000 persons transported over the bridge, so the tax will yield an income to the District of approximately $3,000 annually.

The Senate committee on commerce has submitted a report in favor of the passage of the joint resolution providing for an extension of one year in the time in which the highway bridge and approaches across the Potomac river at Washington is to be completed. By a joint resolution approved February 18, 1905, the time for completing the construction of this bridge and its approaches was extended to February 12, 1906. While the work on the bridge proper will be completed by that date and the opening of the bridge and approaches need not be delayed, it is estimated by Secretary Taft and the chief of army engineers that it will require the entire working year of 1906 to finish all of the work on the approaches, the most important work being the construction of a steel and concrete bridge over the Washington channel in the Washington approach.

Denounced Certain Preachers.

"Wordly negro preachers are the curse of the race, especially in the South, and they are the black sheep to be put out of the fold," said Rev. R. B. Robinson yesterday, addressing the first session of the Afro-American Congress of the United States at the Miles M. E. Church in Washington. Continuing Rev. Robinson said:

"Instead of talking about Christ and the soul of man, this kind of preacher is running about with sinners, wearing high collars and long coats, and saying what he thinks will best please his friends when he gets into the pulpit. The race should be weeded of its objectionable characters. I know of a negro club not many miles from here where liquor and cigars were served about two years ago, and where negro preachers drank as if they were in saloons. Hell will be full of negro ministers who are trying to deceive their God." Robinson is an old resident of this city.

Mr. Bryan was one of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia from 1875 until 1878, and was prominent for several years in Washington affairs. He was born in Alexandria, December 22, 1828; was graduated at Harvard, and practiced law in Cincinnati until 1852, when he removed to Chicago, where he lived until his death, with the exception of his term of service in Washington. Mr. Bryan came to Washington on November 7 last, and had been visiting at the home of his niece. He was ill only a few days. He is survived by a son, Charles Page Bryan, United States Minister to Portugal, and one daughter, Miss Bryan, who was with him at the time of his death.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 26, 1906.

The Black Hand Society.

Utterly unable to cope with conditions which have been brought about by the "Black Hand" Society, Mayor H. J. Billock and Chief of Police Leo Logan, of Monongahela, Pa., will today appeal to Capt. Groome, of Philadelphia, in command of the State constabularly, and request that Troop A located at Greensburg, and composed of sixty men, be sent to Monongahela immediately. In spite of arrests and warnings, the members of the gang are utterly disregarding the authorities. Meetings are being held day and night, and the people of the county are terrorized. There is talk of on appeal to the governor for State troops. Last night the attention of the United States authorities was called to the existence of the gang.

Gov. Glenn, of North Carolina, arrived in Richmond yesterday morning from Washington. His attention was called to newspaper statements that anarchists had marked him for assassination on account of his opposition to the admission of criminal and undesirable immigrants. He says the threats give him no concern, and declares he is fully able to take care of himself.

Granted Divorce.

Mrs. Maude Frye Arnette was yesterday granted an absolute divorce from her husband, Powell Arnette, of Clarke county, Virginia, by Circuit Judge Thomas W. Harris, of Winchester. Mrs. Arnette alleged that soon after her marriage she and her husband were unable to live contentedly and that he proposed to make a white chalk line half way through the house, she to live on one side of the mark and he on the other. She alleged that he refused to allow her to cross the mark. In her bill she named Rosa McGill as corespondent. Arnette, who is a rich landowner of Clarke county, married Miss Maude Frye in Washington on December 1, 1903, and the trouble in their married life began the day following the wedding. Instead of permanent alimony, Mrs. Arnette accepts $2,000, which the defendant is ordered to pay to her.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks when I was was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was relieved by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure, stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50

Stomach Troubles and Constipation

"Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are the best thing for stomach troubles end constipation I have ever sold," says J. R. Cullman, a druggist of Potterville, Mich. They are easy to take and always gives satisfaction. I tell my customers to try them and if not satisfactory to come back and get their money, but have never had a complaint." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Soothing and Comforting.

The soothing and comforting effects of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to Piles, sores, cuts, boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly. This Salve draws out the inflammation, reduces swelling and acts as a rubefacient, thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts, permitting or aiding Nature to permanently remove the trouble entirely. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas common "remedies" made with mercury merely drive them out and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real cure, not a delusion. At druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the Liquid Cold Cure. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Gives strength to weak lungs. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.
